MUST NOT SLACKEN OUR WORK

Secretary of War Baker Issues Warning Not to be Deceived by the Germans Peace Proposal.

They Realize Our Armies in a Short Time Will be the Chief Contending Force.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, December 24. — Germany's newest peace propaganda, viewed as a fore-runner to an offensive in the west, unless a German made peace is accepted by the allies and by the United States, "should not for a moment induce us to slacken our preparations for war," says Secretary Baker in his weekly review of the military situation.

"The Germans realize" says the statement, "that within a short time our armies will form the principal body of reserves remaining available on the battle fields of Europe.

"Our armies constitute the reserve of Victory."

(Associated Press Cable)

Amsterdam, December 24. — Emperor William visited the front north of Verdun on Friday, according to a Berlin dispatch and in an address to the troops thanked them warmly for their efforts.

"But for the calm and heroic warriors on the western front," he said, "the enormous employment of German forces in the East and in Italy would never have been possible. The battles on the bloody hills around Verdun were not in vain. They created new foundations for the conduct of the war."

Akron, O., December 24. — Representative E. R. Bathrick, of the 14th Ohio District, died at his home here last night. He had been ill more than five weeks. Ten days ago he underwent an operation for gall stones.

Mr. Bathrick's ambition after his graduation from high school took a journalistic trend and he made his way to New York where in Brooklyn he took a prominent part in the attack upon Tammany which was then being waged by the New York newspapers.

He served in two Congresses, representing the 19th District. He was defeated for re-election in 1914.

In 1916 he again became a candidate and was elected from the 14th Ohio Congressional District, over F. H. Williams, of Lorain.

MAKING AMERICA'S WINGS

Committee on Public Information

Imagine the care and skill required to put the airplane wings here shown. Each one of the scores of separate pieces has been cut out to exact requirements on the principle of standardization introduced into airplane production by the United States, and must be fitted together with the other sections into the stout wing which will soon be carrying an American airman over the German trenches.

THE REICHSTAG CONSIDERING PEACE PLANS

Keynote of Russian Proposal Found in Former Announcement of Germans.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Peace without annexation and without indemnities, the formula adopted by the German Reichstag at its peace resolution last July, is the keynote of the Russian peace terms that are now being discussed.

The Russian terms have been submitted to the representatives of the Central Powers who have taken them under consideration.

THE RUSSIAN PEACE PLANS

No compulsory annexation of territory seized during the war and immediate evacuation of it and no contributions to be required from belligerents are proposed by Russia. She also suggests that countries deprived of their independence be reinstated and that national groups not independent before the war shall decide their status by a referendum.

ALLIES ACTIVE

Raids and local attacks have been carried out on the western front. The Germans gained slightly in local attack at one point, but at all other points on both the British and French fronts have been repulsed.

Washington, December 24. — Reports to the Red Cross today on the result of its campaign showed that some divisions had exceeded their quotas and others were approaching the figures set for them.

The central division which voluntarily raised its quota from 1,189,000 to 1,500,000, expects to exceed the higher figure.

OHIO FOLKS ARE WELCOME BY THE BOYS

Twenty-five Thousand Home Boys Swing Past Reviewing Stand of the Governor and Party.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala., December 24. — Several hundred Ohioans, among them Governor Cox, and many Alabama citizens were thrilled this morning when 25,000 Ohio boys, the members of the 37th Division, Federal Army, swung past the reviewing stand at Camp Sheridan, presenting probably the greatest military spectacle that this state has ever witnessed.

Although a similar review was held a few weeks ago, the men who voluntarily answered the war declaration, were inspired to outdo any previous occasion by the thoughts that the enemy was checked at the Italian rear positions.

ME AND CO.

In a speech to the second army on Saturday, Emperor William said:

"This, the year of 1917, with its great battles has proved that the German people have in the Lord of Creation an unconditional ally on whom it can absolutely rely. Without Him all would have been in vain."

all phases of the question and it has been understood he intended to address Congress on the subject after the holidays. While sentiment in favor of government operation of the roads has been growing, no intimation of what he will recommend has been given.

BOYS ARE WELL AND HAPPY SAYS CAPT. HARDWAY

Welcomes Any News and Particularly That From Fayette—Now Has Two Companies Under His Command.

The Herald is in receipt of a message from Capt. O. E. Hardway, in which he also encloses a copy of the Rainbow Reveille, the official publication of the Rainbow Division. Capt. Hardway has been temporarily in charge of two companies located in the village in which he is billeted. The letter follows:

France, Nov. 25th, 1917.
Editor Herald:

Will drop you a line and enclose you a newspaper that is edited by the chaplain of our regiment. You will find very little real news, the paper is always welcomed by us and every word is read.

Company "M" is all O. K., every one well and making the best of things, with the exception that we have a few cases of measles and mumps, but the victims are recovering nicely. Men all seem to be well contented. Have plenty to eat and plenty to wear. I am in command of a detachment of two companies in a village, and have a chat with the mayor through an interpreter almost every day. The people treat us royally, and we have the best that the village affords. Sleep every night in a bed I have no fears of breaking down as the bed posts are solid wood about eight inches square, supporting a feather bed about two feet thick. Have done considerable soldiering, but never had such sleeping quarters assigned to me before. Have only two officers with Co. M now, one of them having been sent to different schools over here, among them Lt. Johnson.

If censorship permitted we might write news of interest, but we have to confine ourselves to saying that we are still alive and well and asking that you drop us a line now and then when you find time. Anything that you write will be news to us.

Yours very respectfully,
O. E. HARDWAY,
Capt. 166th Infantry.

BAD FREIGHT WRECK OCCURS AT SUMMIT

Eight cars of a D. T. & L. freight train were piled up in an ugly smashup at Summit, Saturday afternoon, and the road was blocked at that point until late Sunday, when the wreckage was finally cleared away by the wrecker and the road reopened to traffic. Sunday trains over that section of the road were delayed on account of the tie-up.

The wreck is one of the worst occurring on the road in a great many months, and is said to have been due to water from the melting snow washing under the track.

BAD BREAKS IN STREET PAVING

A number of bad breaks have appeared in the paving on Washington avenue, according to a resident of that street, and at one point the street has broken for a distance of 70 feet, and a short distance from the 70 foot break is another break of about 40 feet.

The appearance of the breaks has caused the citizens no little disappointment, and indicates that the work was not done according to specifications. Heffner & Son constructed the street.

BUYS INTEREST IN VULCANIZING PLANT

Frank Blessing has purchased a half interest in the Fred Crona vulcanizing business, and beginning January 1st, the firm will be located in the McFadden building, formerly occupied by the McFadden Grocery, and will be known as The Tire Shop. At the present time the plant is located in the McClellan building.

Not only will the firm be engaged in vulcanizing, but will handle new and blemished tires, and possibly seconds.

SAME OLD STORY IN SAME OLD WAY

The down town streets not having been cleaned for the past month or longer are in an almost intolerable condition. The accumulation of mud and filth at any time unsightly, are rendered more so by the water from the melting snow and ice.

The streets in their present condition not only are an eyesore, but endanger the health of the community as well.

ENGINE USELESS

A huge B. & O. engine has been standing on the siding in this city the past ten days or two weeks, it is declared, because of some needed repairs, and the fact that the shops are very busy and it was planned to make the repairs here. Saturday the broken part arrived, but was found to be for a different make of engine, it is claimed, and the big engine remains useless while regardless of the fact that every engine is needed to move freight.

No Herald Tomorrow—Christmas.

FOOTBALL INJURIES MAY KEEP CARLSON OUT

H. C. CARLSON

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 24.—Bumps he received on the gridiron this past season will likely keep "Chief" Carlson, the Blue and Gold football leader out of basketball this season. Carlson was hurt early in the W. and J. game and was out of the rest of the season with the exception of a second or two in each game. He was put in these games by Coach "Pop" Warner when they were won purely for sentimental reasons. Carlson, in his four years career at Pitt, didn't miss a single game of football. As Pitt has had the one-year residence rule in effect for the last two years, Carlson is the last man who can achieve that record. He has won his letter in three branches of sports—football, baseball and basketball.

NO HERALD TUESDAY

In order that all employees may observe Christmas, there will be no issue of the Herald Tuesday.

WRITES AMID ROAR OF THE BIG GUNS

Mrs. Burnett Hyer is in receipt of a number of letters from her husband, a Corporal in M Company, in France, and in one of the letters he stated that while he was writing the roar of the big guns on the battle front could be heard very plainly, indicating that the company is billeted within 35 miles of the battlefield, where the artillery has been very active for some time, and where the allied armies are probably ready for any drive that the Germans may launch.

A large number of letters from the members of M Company have reached the city during the past day or two, indicating the arrival of another mail carrying steamer.

OVERCOATS LOANED TO DISCHARGED MEN DOINGS OF THE CAMP

By Associated Press Dispatch, Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., December 24.—Uncle Sam is more than willing to do his bit toward helping men who have been discharged from the National Army because of physical disability and who do not have the necessary wherewithal to provide themselves with heavy outer clothing when leaving camp.

An order received here from Washington gives officers permission to waive army regulations in such cases after investigation and issue overcoats to men, who can have use of them for 15 days after being discharged; at the end of that period, the men are required to return the overcoats to the nearest quartermaster by a franked label. Officers say that all but a negligible quantity of such clothing has been returned by the men.

For the first time in history, Canadian money is being accepted in Chillicothe at face value. Large amounts of Canadian silver money have been brought here by friends and relatives of the selective draft soldiers.

In Central and Southern Ohio it has been the practice to accept the money in amounts larger than ten cents at only 30 per cent of face value. One of the largest Chillicothe banks, through its cashier, announced that inasmuch as the United States and Canada are allies, there is all the more reason why Canadian money should be taken at full face.

DEATH CAME UNDER SAD CIRCUMSTANCES

A death marked by peculiarly distressing circumstances occurred at the home of Mr. H. V. Hankins, near Milledgeville, in the gray dawn of Saturday morning, when Mrs. Caroline Wilcoxen died of pneumonia at the age of 69 years.

Mrs. Wilcoxen was Mrs. Hankins' mother, and had come up from her home in Waverly to keep house for her daughter, who underwent a recent operation at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus. Mrs. Hankins had returned from Columbus but was not yet able to go to her own home, and was with Mrs. Valentine Hoppes in this city, when the sad word reached her.

Mrs. Wilcoxen lost her husband about a year ago. She is survived by seven children.

Rev. J. H. Moody conducted funeral services at the Hankins home Sunday afternoon, after which the body was shipped to Mrs. Wilcoxen's home town for burial.

Poetry For Today

RIGHT NOW.

Now is the time to be happy, now is the hour to be glad, Now is the day to be merry and never a moment be sad Never an instant grow lonely—friends all about us, and they Make, if it's only in spirit, a beautiful thing of the day.

Now is the time to be busy, busy at things we love best; Now is the time to be knitting and sewing and all of the rest; Now is the hour for glad service, and whichever way we shall turn, Oh! what a light we do follow, guarding and helping it turn!

Now is the time for our dreaming, dazing and looking ahead, Now is the hour to draw closer and, where we can, loveliness spread, Loveliness both of our fancy and blossoms enriching our way. Now is the time to be happy, just living and hoping to-day.

AS HE SEES IT

The World's Christmas Present

The successes of the British forces in Palestine have brought to the Christain world, the greatest gift of the centuries.

Jerusalem—the holy city—about which cluster all the memories of the early bible characters and hallowed as the city in which Christ lived, and taught and outside the walls of which He died upon the cross that men might live, and be redeemed; the city in which He taught that peace on earth good will to men should rule the world, is the gift this Christmas.

With the wresting of Jerusalem from Moslem control the British forces also took the little village of Bethlehem, near by, where Christ was born and from which he was taken, by Joseph and Mary, into Egypt to escape the wrath of Herod.

What a tremendous gift to the Christain world that is—what possibilities it holds for the future of the world. What it means of progress to Christain people, what of hope to the Jews that they may once again be gathered together in the Holy City, in Palestine, the land of their fathers after having been scattered among all the nations of the earth for centuries, passes almost beyond human conception.

The great Christmas of the centuries. If it could only be crowned now by the adoption of the teachings of the Prince of Peace.

Maybe we are justified on this Christmas Eve in taking hope that the star in the east, shining with a brighter lustre, mean that the teachings of the Nazarene will find more universal acceptance in the affairs of men.

Back to Water Power

Only a few years ago some enthusiast, some "impractical" dreamer worked out a plan to construct a huge basin or reservoir in the lower valley of Paint creek between the mountains to secure hundreds of thousands of horse power from the water and by that power to generate, in a power plant, to be constructed at that point, quantities of electricity to supply all the surrounding cities, towns and country, with a wide radius.

When this "vision" was published broadcast, polite people smiled and the less considerate laughed and scoffed.

The very immensity of the conception was appalling.

Now, when we suggested to one of our practical business men, who uses quantities of power, that that very suggestion had become practical, he answers that it is all right except the word "immense" was not proper to use in connection with it. The idea was good, but the plan was on too small a scale. And he is right. The inability to get coal and fuel, the immense demand of a rapidly increasing population, for electric power, the great distances which fuel must be transported is compelling people to realize that we must get power and light—electricity—from some other source than coal.

We haven't yet, been able to devise any method of taking the current directly from the sun's rays and extracting the imprisoned rays from the buried coal is too slow.

Water power is the solution. Nature has another supply house ready for man's use. We must harness the streams again as our forefathers did decades ago. Go back to the old style way, only on a gigantic scale.

Where, in the years gone by, individual settlers built their small mills and factories by the sides of the flowing creeks and rivers, in the years to come great corporations will build immense power plants to manufacture electric current to be transported on high tension wires to remote sections.

In the old days, our forefathers took their wheat to the mill—now the power to run the mills, light the streets, run the factories, to heat and do all the many things of this busy commercial age, will be carried to the consumer. Away off in the quiet hills nature will supply the power to make the wheels go round.

It's no longer a wild dream of a visionary man.

plateau and along the lower Piave, while perhaps numerically less important than those in the Grappa region, are admitted for the same purpose, according to the admission of prisoners, who say the condition of their troops is terrible and they must at all costs secure a line on the plain and control the Brenta and Piave valleys, so that they will not have to endure the winter in the mountains.

Columbus, Dec. 24.—A movement has been launched to establish here a state, county and city club house for Ohio Republicans. The Buckeye Republican club authorized its president, Gerry Catheart, to appoint a new committee to take up the project at once. The Republican Glee club will have a similar committee to co-operate. The two bodies are to negotiate with state, county and city Republican organizations, all of which are said to be favorable to the plan. What is wanted is a building with club accommodations, which is to be made an all-year-round rendezvous for Ohio Republicans.

ITALIANS READY FOR AUSTRIANS

(By American Press)

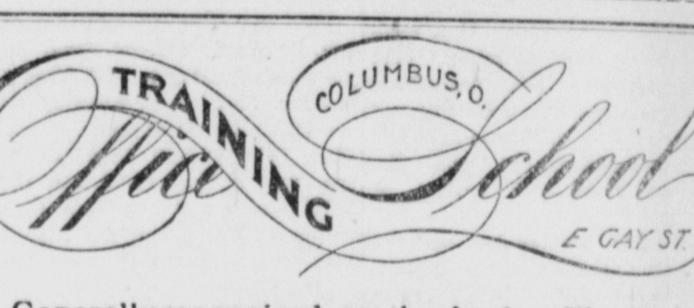

London, Dec. 24.—Troops are being massed by the Austrians in the vicinity of Monte Asolone, an important position near Monte Grappa. A new and unprecedentedly vigorous onslaught on the barriers to the plains is expected soon, not only at Grappa itself, but on the Asiago plateau and possibly the lower Piave, where enemy troop concentrations also are recorded.

Although it appears that the Austrians have given up hope of breaking through the Italian line at present so far as to force another great retreat, all available information indicates the enemy wants to achieve another big success by capturing all peaks commanding the plain and would vastly prefer a position at the northern limit of the plain, at least where climatic conditions would favor its troops, while possession of the peaks would enable him to control the territory for miles in front of them.

Even a cursory visit to the Grappa sector, however, is sufficient to reveal convincingly how far the enemy is from achieving these objectives and how formidable the Italian positions are, backed up by a rejuvenated army, thoroughly reorganized and re-equipped, and whose spirit was shown by the counter attacks which recaptured the great Asolone positions. Had the enemy been able to hold these positions and conquer Monte Costone, between it and Monte Grappa, which latter is the enemy's objective as the completely dominating position of the entire range, this key position would have been seriously menaced.

Their rebuff at this important point, however, keeps the Austro-German forces not only at a considerable distance from the plain they are seeking, but makes their progress toward it extremely difficult now that the weather conditions, unfavorable for several days, are rapidly increasing in severity.

LITTLE STORIES OF THE BIG CAMP AT CHILlicothe

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, December 24.—Negro selects here suffered more severely during the extreme cold weather of the last two or three weeks. There are several thousand negro draftees here from Oklahoma and other southern points and they were the hardest hit by the below zero weather. Even the negro officers reported extreme discomfort from the cold.

The best indications that the spirits of the negroes descended simultaneously with the mercury was that they lost their inevitable tendency to sing. The negroes are the happiest men in camp, as a rule, officers say. They worry less and take their discipline with less grumbling and can stand hardships with more ease than their white companions—but they can't stand the cold weather. Daily hikes were included in their schedules even during the coldest weather. Frostbitten ears were the most numerous "casualties" reported.

"Y" WORKERS VISIT SICK

Camp Sherman Y. M. C. A. officials have taken it upon themselves to brighten the confinement of selective draft soldiers who are sick at the big base hospital, which is in one corner of the camp and rather unhandy to get to when the men are busy with their routine duties.

ANOTHER FIRE DUE TO BANKING ASHES

Sunday night the fire department was forced to extinguish another fire that was caused by banking hot ashes against a wooden fence.

This practice, which not only endangers one building, but surrounding buildings as well, has caused two fires within the past few days.

The fire Sunday night was extinguished with little difficulty, it not being necessary to take the truck to the fire.

NEAR 1,000 MARK

The number of dog licenses issued up until Monday afternoon was near the 1,000 mark with some applicants at the counter nearly all of the time. Quite a number of additional licenses are expected within the next few days.

GRATEFUL TO RED CROSS

With the extremely cold weather, which has prevailed during the last three weeks, Camp Sherman soldiers have been doubly grateful to the Red Cross organizations throughout the state for the thousands of sweaters, which have been distributed to the men by the Red Cross officials here. Twenty-six thousand five hundred sweaters have been given to the men and 4,000 others will be ready for distribution by Christmas Day, it is said. More wristlets will be issued soon and the drivers of automobiles, trucks, and motorcycles are soon to get helmets.

PASSING THE TIME

Inclement weather which has put rearranged schedules for the soldiers here into the realm of the postponed, has been responsible for a deal of inactivity on the part of the men and especially of company commanders to discover ways and means of passing time—the hardest thing in the world for a fighting man to do. The regimental bands and all means of producing music—whether vocal or instrumental—have been in demand among the selects.

WIRE CALLS HIM BACK TO THE EAST

Harry Rinehart, in the U. S. Ordnance department, who has been stationed at Long Island and reached this city a day or two ago to spend Christmas at home, received a telegram Sunday calling him back and he is to report to Hoboken, N. J., without delay. He left Monday morning.

Within a few days Rinehart expects to be on his way to France, and before leaving declared that before the close of January he expects to see Company M boys in France.

Winston Churchill's Greatest Love Story

December 25th, 26th, 27th

Christmas, Wednesday and Thursday. Matinee Each Day at 2:30 P. M.

All Seats 25 Cents, 3 Cents War Tax.

Night: First Show 6:30, Second at 9:00.

12 REELS
THRILLS

It portrays a human Lincoln, the Lincoln of both spoken drama and the newer and broader drama of the screen have been mere historical figureheads. Says Thomas A. Edison: "In 'The Crisis' we have the titanic figure of Lincoln, his actions, his characteristics preserved for posterity in moving pictures in a manner so true to life that it recalls to my mind the great emancipator as I knew him."

* * * *

Fort Sumter is bombarded, and the American flag falls for the first time before the hostile fire of an internal enemy.

* * * *

The torchlight campaign of the sixties with its crude poetry of the backwoods, is shown, culminating in the election of Abraham Lincoln.

* * * *

A nation rushes to arms at the call of a raw-boned humorist, who is destined to become the sublime man of sorrows.

ACTION

A delicate and beautiful romance, involving North and South in the border city of St. Louis, is told. The play follows closely the novel, which had a great popular success, and has now taken its place among the classics of American fiction.

* * * *

Lincoln and Douglas debate the fiery question that finally set the country in a blaze of civil war: "Can the people of a United States territory, in any lawful way, against the wish of any citizen of the United States, exclude slavery from its limits prior to the formation of a state constitution?"

* * * *

The slave market of old St. Louis is reproduced, with an auction sale of human chattels in progress.

* * * *

The battle of Vicksburg is fought in detail, with its flotilla of crude river gunboats bombarding the forts on the bluffs, and its blue and grey coated land armies engaged in a grim hand-to-hand death struggle.

12 Reels of Patriotism

Yet, throughout the play, the romance of war overtops its red horror. And for the first time NORTH AND SOUTH can sit together in the theater and see their respective causes impartially set forth and sympathetically portrayed.

12 Reels of Patriotism*SEE

A Nation rush to arms.

The entire National Guard of Mississippi enact "The Battle of Vicksburg." Admiral Porter's fleet in a rain of shells that illuminated the belligerent city. Fort Sumpter bombarded.

A patch of ground shot away and a horse and rider roll over a cliff.

A Wonderful Love Story. This wonder of wonders leaves the beholder in an exalted mind, proud of his country, willing and even glad to give himself to any noble cause. Its portrayal of courage, patriotism, love, honor, self-sacrifice and Americanism is intensely human, true and real. America's Greatest American Love Story.

We, the Colonial Theatre, wish you, the Public, merriest Xmas and happiest New Year that you have ever had. We also promise you that we will always run the greatest productions that money will buy. Remember the Colonial's Motto: "The Shrine of the Silent Art."

CENSOR GETS BUSY ON LETTER FROM "CHIEF" KENNEDY

Boys All Well Except Bad Colds, Etc., Writes Sgt. Clarence Kennedy, Who Is Recovering from Injuries—Patton Visit Camp.

Another letter from "Chief" Kennedy, of Company M, has reached The Herald from France. But this time the letter did not come through uncashed—the censor used the scissors on it, and it came in sections.

It is noted in the letter that he is recovering from injuries received soon after the Company reached France, and that Secretary Walter Patton visited them the first day of December. He writes:

Somewhere in France, December 2, 1917. Editor The Herald:

No doubt you have begun to think I am no longer among the land of the living, but such is not the case. I am well and happy as could be expected, and hope soon to be able to get out and make up for lost time I do not know much to write as we are somewhat restricted in what we write owing to the fact that our mail might fall into the hands of the enemy and thereby they would gain valuable information if our men were allowed to write just what they pleased and as much as they pleased.

I am located as well as anybody and our company is a little better located than many of the others.

I have seen several of the French aero planes since we landed and must say that they have some machines.

The boys are all well as can be and there is nobody that is seriously sick at this writing. The worst things we have to contend with are the dampness and cold, so you can guess that most of our sickness is colds.

One thing that we lack more than any thing else is writing paper, and I miss it more than the rest of the boys for as a rule I do more writing than any other boy in the outfit. Now there is one thing that you can do that will sure please me and that is send me a ream of 8½x11 paper that I can use on a typewriter.

I am still somewhat under the weather from the accident that I had when I first landed and do not feel as good as I might, yet I am recovering as fast as could be expected and the treatment that I am getting is of the best and is bringing good results.

Will close for this time, but say before I do that Patton of the Y. M. C. A. was up to our camp yesterday afternoon and we were sure glad to see somebody from dear old Washington C. H.

CHRISTMAS DAY AT CAMP SHERMAN

(By American Press)

Chillicothe, O., Dec. 26.—Every soldier at Camp Sherman will have material reason to know that the folks back home are thinking of him within the next 24 hours. Quantities of knitted articles, clothing, edibles, games and other useful things are all ready for distribution Christmas day. Special arrangement have been made to reach the men who are confined to their quarters by quarantine, the men in the guardhouse, the 800 rejects at the base hospital and the alien enemies in the One Hundred and Fifty-eighth depot brigade.

Delicacies and fruit will be taken to the men in the hospital, while each ward will be decorated. On Christmas day hour quartets from the Y. M. C. A. will go through the wards and lead the men in songs and will greet each man personally.

Five thousand additional select men left for their homes to spend Christmas yesterday on special and regular trains and interurban cars. At the same time the steady flow of guests to the camp continued. Rooms in the hotels here and in Chillicothe are at a premium. Men who have been disappointed in not getting passes to go home over Christmas are going to apply for leave over the next week-end, so as to have next Sunday at home with their families.

Thirty-five selects from Cleveland, who several days ago went home without permission, were returned to camp by the authorities and will spend their Christmas in the guard house.

Brigadier General J. H. McRae, who has been in command of the One Hundred and Fifty-eighth depot brigade here, composed of men in the training battalion, has been ordered south to Camp Green at Charlotte, N. C., to assume command of the Ninth brigade there. Officers here do not know who his successor will be.

Seventeen additional alleged deserters, most of them foreigners, were brought to division headquarters from western Pennsylvania counties, charged with evading the draft law. Most of the men claim they never received notice that they had been drafted.
